Fade

Jakwob

Find myself picking up the pieces of me that you discardedSo, this is what they talk about when they say, 'broken hearted'Thought I was a together kind of person, the type who had a handleAs fate would have it I'm exploding like a roman candle.And it's pretty in the skySuch a beautiful way to dieBut I want my sparkle backWhy does it always fade to black?I thought that ignition meant the beginning of somethingReally got me going and let me fizzle to nothingYou could've have anything you wanted from me, I'm a catchI looked up to you so much, it's a shame you never noticed that.And it's pretty in the skySuch a beautiful way to dieBut I want my sparkle backWhy does it always fade to black?We never said goodbyeAt least you don't get to see me cry.Did you mean to blow me up?I just wanted to be loved.I just wanted to be loved.And it's pretty in the skySuch a beautiful way to dieBut I want my sparkle backWhy does it always fade to black?
