No One Else

Fernando Ortega

I look for You in the middle of the night
Savior and guardian of my soul
From highest heaven You hear my call
And in my trouble You comfort and hold meI long for You when I cannot hear Your voice
And my heart is dry as the dust
Oh Lord, be near me if I should fall
And show me how to believe and to trust You aloneThere is no one else beside You
In the darkest night, in the wilderness
There is no one else beside You
At Your feet I cry, in Your arms I restI hope in You and Your promise to return
With angels and dark clouds of thunder
When death and evil, and sorrow flee away
And all creation will bow and proclaim You aloneThere is no one else beside You
You will fill the sky when You come again
There is no one else beside You
Heaven's only light burning without endThere is no one else beside You
In the darkest night, in the wilderness
There is no one else beside You
At Your feet I cry, in Your arms I restThere is no one else beside You
You will fill the sky when You come again
There is no one else beside You
Heaven's only light burning without endNo one, no one, no one beside You
No one, no one, no one beside You
No one, no one, no one beside You
No one, no one, no one beside You
No one, no one, no one beside You
