It Never Ends

Dan Cribb

It started off with a one night stand.
lingered to a fling.
The sirens and the sergeants didn't seem to mean a thing.
hide your fangs all you want, you still need the blood.
Tell us that it's different now, you're up to no good
Take my hand, show me the way, we are the children that fell from grace.
Take my hand, show me the way, we are the children who can't be saved.
One more nail in the coffin, one more foot in the grave
One more time I'm on my knees, as I try to walk away.
How has it come to this?
I've said it once, I've said it twice, I've said it a thousand fucking times.
That I'm ok, that I'm fine, that it's all just in my mind.
But this has got the best of me. and I can't seem to sleep.
It's not because you're not with me. It's because you never leave.
I've said it once, I've said it twice, I've said it a thousand fucking times
You said it's a suicide, I said this is a war.
And i'm loosing the battle.
man down, man down. oh.
This is what you call love?

This is a war I can't win.
One more nail in the coffin, one more foot in the grave.
One more time I'm on my knees, as I try to walk away.
Everything I've loved, became everything I lost.
I've said it once, I've said it twice, I've said it a thousand fucking times.
That I'm ok, that I'm fine, that it's all just in my mind.
But this has got the best of me and I can't seem to sleep.
It's not because your not with me.
It's because you never leave.
It's not because your not with me.
It's because you never leave.
Every second. Every minute. Every hour. Every day.
It never ends, it never ends.
Every second. Every minute. Every hour. Every day.
It never ends, it never ends.
Every second. Every minute. Every hour. Every day.
It never ends, it never ends
Every second. Every minute. Every hour. Every day.
It never ends, it never ends
