The Radio Girl

Jason Rubero

She's all around me
She's everywhere
Confounds and astounds me over the air
She's got her short waves running through my head
Her interference tells me I'm not dead

I'm so modulated when she radiates
My wires are crossed my amp saturates
She's all through the ether, she laces the sky
She don't need a speaker I can hear her for miles

Radio girl
Radio girl

Radio girl - our love is so tragic
Radio girl - but I'm a fool for her static
Her tubes glow for miles and miles
And she broadcasts nothing but smiles
And I'm so in love with her

Radio girl - our love is so tragic
Radio girl - but I'm a fool for her static
She broadcasts all of the time
And she doesn't need a reason or rhyme
I wanna say that she's all mine
But she belongs to everyone

Just to catch her transmission makes me shine for days
You say you can't hear her, well you're out of phase
When she's switched on she darkens the sun
Forget the B.B.C. she's my Radio One

Radio Girl
Radio Girl
The whole world's watching you

Radio Girl
My Radio Girl
Radio Girl

Radio Girl

Lyrics Submitted by Andrew Bird

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/