

Long Time Coming

Maria Mena

Your patronizing stare can watch me heal.
What I would give for you to tae the wheel
It's just been a long time coming
The strong resemblance to my mother's womb is the reason why I will not leave this room
It's been a long time coming The lack of self-esteem has grown on me
I'm not as strong as I appear to be
It's been a long time coming My lullaby sounds more like distant screams
I wake up sleep deprived after every dream
It's been a long time coming My flesh makes little sense compared to yours
I wish my restlessness would open doors
It's just been a long time coming

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>