Change Is

Ryan Bingham

Take yourself out of your mind
Open everything they say you are
A breeding bed of lies builds nothing at all
I'd rather be standing up tall and strongTake yourself out of your mind
Open your eyes to the morning sun
Take into yourself everything you have become
If you believe enough to lead, there's nothing to be wonTake yourself out of your mind
Listen to the rhythm of a different drum
Start with just a walk and break into a run
Together we will come and see the madness be undoneTake yourself out of your mind
Move out the way or tear down the wall
Don't start it all over if there's nothing to resolved
If you stray there is no change, in the end you're gonna fallChange is part of your life
Change is in your mind
Change is in your mind
Change is in your life
Change is in your eyes
Change is in your mind
Change is in your mindTake yourself out of your mind
Take yourself out of your mind
Take yourself out of your mind
Take yourself out of your mindTake yourself out of your mind
Wake up into the morning sun
Get down [Incomprehensible] you have become
If you believe than you can lead, there's nothing to be won
