

Where You End (feat. Laura Dawn)

Moby

Some things fall apart
Some things makes you whole
Some things that you find
Are beyond your controll love you and you're beautiful
You write your own songs
What if the right part of leaving
Turned out to be wrongIf I could kiss you now
Oh I'd kiss you now again and again
'Til I don't know where I begin
And where you endThought I fell in love the other day
With an old friend of mine
I was running kisses
Down every inch of her spine
We had the roof down
The sun came shining in
The black fact is
That I was thinking of youIf I could kiss you now
Oh I'd kiss you now again and again
'Til I don't know where I begin
And where you endI slept in the sun the other day
I thought I was fine
Everything seemed perfect
'Til I had you on my mindI tried to love you
I did all that I could
I wish that the bad now
Had finally turned into good
If I could kiss you now
Oh I'd kiss you now again and again
'Til I don't know where I begin
And where you endIf I could kiss you now
If I could kiss you now
If I could kiss you nowOh where you end
Is where I beginOh where you end
Oh where you end
Oh where you end

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>