

They Want More

Olga

They want more

They want more money

Want more time

More experience

Collect more fines

They want more clothes

Little trinkets and things

They want more cars

Diamonds and rings

They want more, always more

When will more ever be enough?

Drowning in all of this stuff

When will more ever be enough?

They want more food

Big plates stuffed full

They want more diets

Gurus and bull

They want more gas

Wood and coal

They want more babies

More sex and souls

They want more, always more

When will more ever be enough?

Drowning in all of this stuff

When will more ever be enough?

The more they get the more they need

Baskets of loot, buckets of greed

They want more, always more

When will more ever be enough?

Drowning in all of this stuff

When will more ever be enough?
