

Brush it Off

Plan Three

Ooooh
You make them wild now
You make them lost now
You're in the zoneOoooh
You make them want you
Oh how I want you, not to goBut everything comes falling down
The silhouette, a smile or frown
And anytime,
All we do is wrongAnd I need you, but then what?
And I leave you, but then what?
Once again, I stand here corrected
Thinking it's too soon, to have it all
Hard enough to know, what I really want
I start changing with everything around me
I brush it offOoooh
I'm walking wires
Over a train crash
I'm holding on
And you, you make me useless
You left me senseless
You lead me onBut please go on, it feels so good
I need this pain, it's understood
That everytime
All we do is wrongAnd I need you, but then what?
And I leave you, but then what?
Everytime, I stand here corrected
Thinking it's too soon, to have it all
Hard enough to know, what I really want
I start changing with everything around meI was here
Still more then once
It's carved into my mind
Well I was here, you were out of reach
Still somehow scars my memoryI'm still here, though always behind
I need to know, will I do right this time
Not anyone, takes a lieI brush it off, then what?Everytime, I stand here corrected
Hope it hits you hard, if it hits at all
Till you finally know, what you really want
Maybe then, I'll be gone forever
