

Fiend of Misery

Militia

Enter a time where demons weave your dreams
Into reality can this be your worst
Nightmare come true
But can I believe what is this
Can it be the truth
Believe what I say tell no tales
The truth will lie
On the seventh day you will die
Return as I and put an end to this hell
This can't go on I must live to tell
Believe what I say the key holds time
To release all you must know what Lies within
Looking Back now I realize
I've found serenity from the cold
As time goes by I grow old
And the wisdom I seek grows near
For the ones who knew they will follow you
To carry out your plan
So evil so divine
Behold the blinding light of darkness
As you release you last breath
You taste death all is black
And it is I who stands before
As evil fills the sky
