Giants Among Common Men

Jamies Elsewhere

It's all the same, nothing's changed
Again I find myself in the current
As I am gracelessly tossed around and round
Your words echo and your voice resoundsWhen we awake from our sleep
We'll know that this is where We're supposed to be
With walls and walls, and walls
Of water for milesJust know that we are so fragile
And easily broken
But I'll try my hardest
To put you back together
If you do the same for meFor now just sleep, my sweet
Don't worry about what tomorrow brings
So let's pretend that
We're giants among common men
Because we've never been taller
Than our demons withinWe are so fragile
And easily broken
But I'll try my hardest
To put you back together
If you do the same for meWe are so fragile
And easily broken
But I'll try my hardest
To put you back together
If you do the same for meWhy did you have to leave me
To fend for myself?
Am I such a terrible man?
Am I such a terrible, terrible man?
I am such a terrible man
Such a violent and hostile man

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/