Ageing Superhero

Newton Faulkner

Every time I think of growing up
I find out that I just slipped back, I got it all wrong
You know I feel younger than I did
When I was younger on a backwards trackI thought by now I could have figured it all out
Instead I'm further back
Feels kinda stupid but I feel 16 in my head
But I guess, it's only 5 years backBut I won't see the signs, it took so long
But you were always on my mind, yeahFor all the times I've tried
To take a little time out for myself
I'm just growing all alone again
But I find in my mind that I'm notTime is running out
And I just want to say I'm sorry now
Before I'm all alone again
And I'm broken and coldThe ageing superhero in me is tired
Because he's lived too fast for too long
And he still longs to be inspiredI feel old, feel broke, feel cold
And I can't fight back, it sounds so stupid I
But it's gone, this train won't run
Guess, it must be the trackBut I won't see the signs, it took so long
But you were always on my mind, yeahFor all the times I've tried
To take a little time out for myself
I'm just growing all alone again
But I find in my mind that I'm notTime is running out
And I just want to say I'm sorry now
Before I'm all alone again
And I'm broken and coldBut I won't see the signs, it took so long
But you were always on my mind, yeahFor all the times I've tried
To take a little time out for myself
I'm just growing all alone again
But I find in my mind that I'm notTime is running out
And I just want to say I'm sorry now
Before I'm all alone again
And I'm broken and coldThe ageing superhero in me is tired
Because he's lived too fast for too long
And he still longs to be inspired
