Do Your Best

John Maus

Don't you know, you better watch this man
Better look him in the eye?
See if he returns your look
Or if he tries to stay a little shy
Maybe soon you'll get involved again
Better best beware
You may expose this man for what he is
And prove he just doesn't care
And I believe in the things that I said
And the prosecution rests
But if you're gonna try and defend this man
I said, "You better do your doggone best"
He's been consistent for quite a few years
Said, "He always acts the same"
Check the record of the things that he's done
And you'll know the nature of his game
