RESILIENCE

Born of Osiris

It came in waves
As cycles divide and unite us
It comes in waves
These visions are unsightlyThe day you walked in
The cycles divide and unite us
You should've stepped down
These visions are unsightlyWho have I become
What have I done
I wish I had a path to choose from
Treading down every road
Will I see you now
I'm not ever backing down
When the page turns over
I will be found again
When the wait is over
This is our stomping groundRegret is not an option
You know I've seldom pondered
Relief is such a pure fragile motionIt came in waves
As cycles divide and unite us
It comes in waves
These visions are unsightlyThe day you walked in
The cycles divide and unite us
You should've stepped down
These visions are unsightlyDeath is not an option
The story is not over
It's unlikely we will die
(Resilience)
Resilience is our power
Driven by our actions
Our lives are here and now
Resilience is our power
Driven by our actions
Our lives are here and nowWhen the page turns over
I will be found again
When the wait is over
This is our stomping groundIt comes in waves
As cycles divide and unite us
It came in waves
These visions are unsightlyThe day you walked in

The cycles divide and unite us
You should've stepped down
These visions are unsightly
