Devils and Angels

Dishwalla

I found out today that you went on a little trip
Somewhere you don't belong
One of your friends made just a little slip
So I'm takin' a little trip of my own
And I'm gonna meet you
I'm gonna greet you
At her back door as you're comin' out
Oh, why this now?
'Cause I used to have angels
They used to watch over me
When love was not a stranger
But love ain't what it used to be
And I don't want these devils
They're knocking at my door
So, I can't love you no more
No more, no more, yeah
No more, no more, no more, no more
You might have thought that I would be a little bit lazy
I might not notice, I might not care
Oh, but now you're finding out that I'm a little bit crazy
And you were the one so unaware
So I'm gonna meet you
I'm gonna greet you
At her back door as you're comin' out
Oh, why this now?
'Cause I used to have angels
They used to watch over me
When love was not a stranger
But love ain't what it used to be
And I don't want these devils
They're knocking at my door
So, I can't love you no more
No more, no more
So I'm gonna walk on, walk on, walk on
Keep my feet movin' on
Walk on, walk on, walk on
Keep my feet movin' on
Walk on, walk on, walk on
Keep my feet movin' on

Walk on, walk on
'Cause I used to have angels
They used to watch over me
When love was not a stranger
But love ain't what it used to be
And I don't want these devils
They're knocking at my door
So, I can't love you no more
No more, no more
I'm gonna let you go
I won't take it
I won't take it, no more
Do you hear what I'm sayin'?
Do you hear what I'm sayin'?
Don't think you can come back here and change my mind
Don't think you can come back and take it over back
