Sipur Machur

Maya Buskila

This is not the rain running down from my eyes
This is not the wind blowing on my face
I remember how you went after and how today you out of my life

I sink my soul finds no longer know if I will return back
I Fnhdt myself I admit that soon I break down and cry

This story is so hooked could be more clear
I am a person like everyone one from a world
It does not pass it more returns you became another person
It is visible and what's expected now depends

I dream of a place where I hope you leave me out of Sorry if I'm not crying because now my tears also fell for you

This same story can be more addicted clear
I am a person like everyone one from a world
It does not pass it more returns you became another person
It is visible and what's expected now depends

This same story can be more addicted clear
I am a person like everyone one from a world
It does not pass it more returns you became another person
It is visible and what's expected now depends

This is not the rain running down from my eyes
This is not the wind blowing on my face
I remember how you went after and how today you out of my life

Lyrics Submitted by Jenia

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/