

Day By Day (feat. Josie Lorenne Unruh)

Stay True

(Austin)

Looking back on these past years
You've drowned your cries, you've hid your tears
And never once did I know what to do
I only knew what to say to get to you
And I know I was wrong to lead you along
I feel so lost now that you're gone Now that you're gone
Day by day, it's all the same
I see your face, I hear your name
These broken memories will never fade away (Josie)
You led the way to help me see
That this is the end of you and me
The end of our troubles, the end of my fears (Both)
Who would've thought this would come so near? (Josie)
Leave me here to drown
I'm losing a part of me
I don't want to let you down
I want to be who you want me to be
But without you, I feel set free
Away from the pain, there's no more shame
There's no more shame (Austin)
Day by day, it's all the same
I see your face, I hear your name
These broken memories will never fade away (Josie)
You led the way to help me see
That this is the end of you and me
The end of our troubles, the end of my fears (Both)
Who would've thought this would come so near? (Austin)
I feel so lost (Josie)
I feel set free (Austin)
I need you here
Why can't you see? (Austin)
Day by day, it's all the same
I see your face, I hear your name
These broken memories will never fade away (Josie)
You led the way to help me see
That this is the end of you and me
The end of our troubles, the end of my fears
Who would've thought this would come so near?
