

Give You

Michelle Chamuel

Stiff lip, tongue twist, I don't know what to say
Hot blood, tight fist, how do I play the game?
Don't know how much more of this I can take
    Before it breaks me down
    If I try to be something better
    I could never stand the pressure
    Guessin' what you wanting me to be
And now I seeAll I can give you is me
    I'm not pretending
    You only get what you see
    All I can give you is me
Heart race, quick blush, don't want to let it show
Soft skin, head rush, how do I let you know
Cold feet, back space, I gotta let it go
    Before it breaks me down
    If I try to be somethin' better
    I could never stand the pressure
    Guessin' what you wanted me to be
And now I seeAll I can give you is me
    I'm not pretending
    You only get what you see
    All I can give you is me
No more time spent being little
    No more livin' in my head
No more searching for the middle
    When I can just be the end
No more time spent being little
    No more livin' in my head
No more searching for the middle
    When I can just be the end
No more time spent being little
    No more livin' in my head
No more searching for the middle
    When I can just be the end
No more time spent being little
    No more livin' in my head
No more searching for the middleAll I can give you is me
    All I can give you is me
    All I can give you is me

All I can give you is me
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>