Shining Hours

Longwave

Something's got a hold in me
Oh, something won't let me be
And over and over againI get overpowered
And lost in my shining hours
There's no way to pretend
Its over this is the endSomething's got a hold in me
Oh something won't let me be
You know I'm hanging by a thread
And its to late for that my friend
It's to late for that againBut if I could id change everything
If I could I'd change everything
If this is what it seemsYou don't have to believe it
If this is what it seems
I'm falling, I'm falling
We're running, we're running scared
