Strength in Numbers

Capdown

for years now we've fought alone but segregation won't build us a home no our strength will grow through community so what is it to be?
well sometimes we feel happy and sometimes we feel proud and so we keep on struggling sometimes i'm so tired i can't see the good through the bad but still we keep on strugglingour time is now what you gonna do?
are you just gonna sit and let it pass you?
our time is now
what you gonna say?
unification todaypeople say that we will never go but negative is all they're offering those people say but they will never know rewards we've gained through years of struggling cos their judgements are based on what they're told so they will never breakthrough
