

Walk Away

Darren Hayes

I have been angry for so long, I let you know
Should've walked away when I was young, I let you go
I turned away but maybe I was wrong
I've been polishing blame for so long now, my pride enjoy
Bit of tragedy never hurt, somehow this man became a boy
You took the blame but maybe I was wrong, oh
Walk away now and be gone
You don't have to want to go on
I can see it's killing you
You don't always have to be so strong for me
Every angel had dirty hands
Even Judas planned to just carry on
Just picking up the pieces
Of what lies behind those sorrowful lies
You can walk away
You have been silent for so long, I let the world know
I turned a bit of my pain into a song then carried on
You took my shame but maybe that was wrong
Walk away now and be gone
You don't have to want to go on
Even when they're killing you
You don't always have to be so strong for me
Every angel had dirty hands
Even Judas planned to just carry on
Just picking up the pieces
Of what lies behind those sorrowful lies

You can walk away now and be strong
Well, I know you can carry on
Walk away now and be gone
'Cause you don't have to wanna carry all the pain inside you
'Cause the blood in me is the your blood every time I fall
Walk away now and be gone
Even when it's killing you
You don't always have to be so strong for me
Walk away now and be gone
'Cause you know even Judas planned to just carry on Still picking up the pieces
Of what lies behind those sorrowful lies

You can walk away now and be strong

You don't have to carry on

Walk away now and be strong

You don't have to wanna go on

Walk away now and be strong

You don't have to wanna go on

Walk away, walk away now

Walk away now, oh

You don't have to go on

You don't have to be strong

Walk away now

You can walk away
