Not As This World

Tree63

Blinded by shining tears
I've walked out into fields just to find You
Thirsting for living water
I've struck the rock in anger just to remind YouHoly God, You promised me Your peace
And I'm still here holding on
Please release meEverything I want may not be what You want for me
Not as this world gives, do You give
I'm starting to see, release meFive thousand miles from home
I come into my own, is this blessing?
I've found riches in my exile
I'm strongest when I'm fragile, You keep me guessingHoly God, I'm starving at Your feast
I can't help feeling so unworthy
Please release meEverything I want may not be what You want for me
Oh, oh, not as this world gives, do You give
I'm starting to see, release meRelease me, release me, release meHoly God, I'm starving at Your feast
Oh c'mon, I'm feeling so unworthy
Please release me, oh please release meEverything I want may not be what You want for me
Oh, oh, not as this world gives, do You give
I'm starting to see, release me
