

Blame It On the Tetons

Modest Mouse

Blame it on the Tetons, yeah, I need a scapegoat now
No my dog won't bite you though it had the right to
You oughta give her credit
'Cuz she knows I would've let it happen Blame it on the weekends
God I need a cola now
Oh we mumble loudly
Wear our shame so proudly Wore our blank expressions
Trying to look interesting
Blame it all on me
'Cuz God I need a cold one now All them eager actors gladly taking credit
For the lines created by the people
Tucked away from sight
Is just a window from the room we're bound to If you find a way out
Oh would you just let me know how?
Would you just let me know how? Blame it on the web
But the spider's your problem now
Language is the liquid
That we're all dissolved in Great for solving problems
After it creates a problem
Blame it on the Tetons
God, I need a scapegoat now Everyone's a building burning
With no one to put the fire out
Standing at the window looking out
Waiting for time to burn us down Everyone's an ocean drowning
With no one really to show how
They might get a little better air
If they turned themselves into a cloud
