

The Other Side of Night

The Rembrandts

No spell that I could cast would ever bring you back too soon
But still I search for hidden answers, underneath this faded moon
The view from here should soothe my soul, even shed some kind of light

Because I know the sun is shining, on the other side of night

On the other side of night
Now, you're movin' through your wakin' world, while in my sleep, I dream
You drift as closely as you can without your ever being seen
But I know you're there beside me, just beyond my line of sight

Out where the sun is always shining, on the other side of night

On the other side of night
If you had stayed, would I have ever found a reason
To feel this way, if you had waited one more season Though, I know you're out there somewhere, only you can prove me right

Since you're the one who crossed the boundary

To the other side of night

To the other side of night

To the other side of night

To the other side of night

To the other side of night

To the other side

To the other side of night
