

Everyone Pushed Down

Gob

you gotta burn that building down i would love to see that world come crasing down then the people under could come crawling out see the sun for the first time it would burn them without a doubt but that burn would feel so good, so warm it would let them finally feel life and be born again

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>