Last One Standing

Hot Chelle Rae

I need this like air in my lungs This element tears through my bones It keeps me fighting Well I, emotions that swim through my veins A fever that shows in my face I'm not hiding And this fire is alive in your eyesChorus: Well I can barely breathe And I can hear the dark hearts marching I won't go down easily Stay here by my side And we will be the last ones standing Hold my hand and kiss me before the hearts collideCold, the feeling of fear on my skin Dying to find a way in the silver lining The stars, they burn out like dreams all around Falling like rain to the ground But you're still shining And this fire is alive in your eyes(Chorus)Don't wake me up I feel your touch Your love like blood runs through me
