She Sang Angels to Rest

Richard Thompson

She charmed me from my cocoon
She eclipsed the sun and the moon
All of that summer my feet never walked on the earthShe sang angels to rest
She sang angels to rest
How do you fall when you already fell for the best?She had that smile on her face
When her thoughts were some other place
All that summer my feet never walked on the earthShe sang angels to rest
She sang angels to rest
How do you fall when you already fell for the best?She had that look in her eyes
Like she'd seen a ghost in the sky
All that summer my feet never walked on the earthShe sang angels to rest
She sang angels to rest
How do you fall when you already fell?
How do you love when your heart isn't well?
How do you fall when you already fell for the best?
