Tangles

Polock

Why'd I take so long to see
The way you have been treating me
Your true colors are clear tonight
I don't know why
Your innocence fooled me
Remembering how we used to be
I realized that you lied
It hurtsOh no that's the way I'm feeling
One step forward three steps back
But now I can see right through you
An empty cry
An empty cryWhy'd you send those letters to me?
Pretending I was all you need
I've seen your darker side tonight
Then you say "why"?
Remember all those plans
We made together now they're dust
The best you ever had
In your lifeThis tune resounding my teeth
And no one let's shift fall sleepOh no that's the way I'm feeling
Betrayed by your smiling eyes
But now I can see right through you
An empty cry
An empty cry
I've opened up my eyes to all your lies
And all that's left behind are tricksOh no that's the way I'm feeling
Always surrounded by tangles
But now I can see right through you
An empty cry
An empty cry
I've opened up my eyes to all your lies
And all that's left behind are tricks
