

Did You Just Take the Long Way Home

Colin Hay

you always know where you can find me im up here where the air is pure and true the cleverness of words just binds me they wont help me to get over you and maybe you got lost at the five ways took a wrong turn just like always or did you just take the long way home? I hear the wind blow through the pine trees
I watch the frozen lights come into view
The stars above they don't align me
They only shine a dim light on you And maybe you got lost at the five ways
Took a wrong turn just like always
Or did you just take the long way home? I wanna hear you walk up right behind me
But the dawn is come and it's done me in And could it be that you don't love me For who I am or what I could be
And from where I am it's such a long way down So maybe you got lost at the five ways
Took a wrong turn just like always
Or did you just take the long way home?
Did you just take the long way home?
Or did you just take the long way home?
