

I'll Be The Moon (feat. Maren Morris)

Dierks Bentley

The phone lights up in the dark, asks where you are and I start driving Meet me for a drink, just an hour, maybe two, maybe three, baby I'm in

Girl, you can't take your eyes off me
And that first kiss is sweet relief, ain't no one gotta know
Just one more before you go I don't wanna be a liar

I don't wanna be a fool
I don't wanna be a secret but I will if you want me to
You can leave me in the dark if that's all I get from you

He can be the sun

I'll be the moon

Yeah, he can be the sun, I'll be the moon The phone lights up in the dark, gotta go, I know, but it still ain't easy
Tomorrow, you'll be waking up beside him, tell him that you love him but you still see me

In my mind when I'm looking at him
And in my eyes it's the obvious elephant in the room
He can't see it, but girl, you do I don't wanna be a liar

I don't wanna be a fool
I don't wanna be a secret but I will if you want me to
You can leave me in the dark if that's all I get from you

He can be the sun

I'll be the moon

Yeah, he can be the sun, I'll be the moon The phone lights up in the dark, yes, it's my turn and I start driving I don't wanna be a liar

I don't wanna be a fool
I don't wanna be a secret but this is something I can't lose
You can leave me in the dark if that's all I get from you

He can be the sun

And I'll be the moon

He can be the sun, I'll be the moon The phone lights up in the dark
