

Queen

Raheem DeVaughn

Love came (love came, love came) forever You're a nurturer and a superwoman
You're every daughter that becomes a mother
And you can be my rock to the highest mountain top
From my heart to my toes, to cherish, love and hold You're my queen, queen, queen, queen
Queen, queen, queen, queen, queen
You gave birth to all the land
You're the backbone of every man
You're my queen, queen, queen, queen
Queen, queen, queen, queen, queen
You wear the crown and you wear it well
I hold my head high so you can tell
You're my queen, queen, queen, queen
You're my queen, queen, queen, queen
You're my queen You're a counsellor, just like grandmas do
You're that voice, you're that push for all I dream and do
So I cherish you, like royalty
And by all means, I'll never put my hands on thee 'Cause you're my queen, queen, queen, queen
Queen, queen, queen, queen, queen (You gave birth)
You gave birth to all the land
You're the backbone of every man
You're my queen, queen, queen, queen
Queen, queen, queen, queen, queen
You wear the crown and you wear it well
I hold my head high so you can tell
You're my queen, queen, queen, queen
You're my queen, queen, queen, queen
You're my queen I never want her be rid me
The merest sensitivity
See you're a grown, strong women
And I'm never gonna call you out your name
Yeah man make this and man make that
'Till the end of time, it's a well-known fact
Behind the greatest man is a virtue of a woman You're my queen, queen, queen, queen
Queen, queen, queen, queen, queen
You gave birth to all the land
You're the backbone of every man
You're my queen, queen, queen, queen
Queen, queen, queen, queen, queen
You wear the crown and you wear it well

I hold my head high so you can tell
You're my queen, queen, queen, queen You could be my daughter
You could be my wife
My virtue of a woman
My rock, half guiding light
(You're my queen, queen, queen, queen, queen)
You're the backbone of every man, baby
I won't never, ever call you out your name baby
You're my queen, you're my call
You're my love, you're my all
You gave birth to all the land
You're the backbone of every man
You're my queen, queen, queen, queen
Queen, queen, queen, queen, queen
You wear the crown and you wear it well
I hold my head high so you can tell
You're my queen, queen, queen, queen
