

Tomorrow is Another Day

Ian Thompson

Sometimes when you're feeling low you don't see the light of day or feel the breeze across your face and the beauty of the simple things they come and go without a trace Living on a shoestring is so hard to appreciate that our time is of a premium they say the brave don't hesitate you'd better move it's getting late Tomorrow is another day Swimming round this goldfish bowl you're a million miles away and I stumble like a fool but tomorrow is another day and I could well be Mr Cool Sometimes when you're feeling low
you don't see the light of day
or feel the breeze across your face
and the beauty of the simple things
they come and go without a trace
Tomorrow is another day

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>