

Keys on the Table

Desert Noises

Left the keys on the table
Cause I know I could be a bit more sober
To try to drive and find you
But I might walk to get a little closer
Don't you know there has to be some understanding
I don't expect for you to understand it all
Wish I could blame the weather
Or some disease that makes me feel much colder
Or the man on the moon as he shouts my name when I get much older
There's got to be a way to stop my shaking
Bones and rusty knees and start explaining
Would you be my eyes
Cause I feel so damn blinded by the lies
Told to me by strangers that pass me by
If you could give me a smile I could give you mine
Don't you know there has to be some understanding
I don't expect for you to understand it all
I was right
I never told a lie that I didn't like
I got you by my side
Hey don't that mean I tried
Tried, tried, tried...
Would you be eyes
Cause I feel so damn blinded by the lies
Told to me by strangers that pass me by
If you could give me a smile I could give you mine

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlrics.com/>