Loveless

Said The Whale

We tossed the notion around
Hints in the subtle sounds
Never spoken aloud
I loved the idea of it
But without significance
It could be delicate
And I always mean what I say
How could I love you less
Now that I know you more?
Its just a question that I still don't have the answer for
How could I love you less Now that I know you more?
If there was a choice
Given the choice between theirs and mine
I'd take the comfort of comfort every single time
How could I love you less
Now that I know you more
So passing the time away
Without remembering anything
And learning all your intricacies
You, back to the city life
Softer spoken, kind
Seeing things in a different light
And I always mean what I say
Back in our younger days
(We were younger then)
We were locked away
(We were just starting out)
We were just starting out
You used to hold me close
(I still hold you close)
You're so dear to me
(You're still dear to me)
Now we're comfortable
Never too comfortable
