We've Never Met

Neko Case

Oh my darling, oh my darling
How can you forget?
All the love we had between us
Now it's like we've never metOh it kills me, how it kills me
When I think I held you up
You were golden, I was blind
With your poison in my bloodBittersweet are the memories
That make old lovers pine
But I'll trade all the memories
Just to have your heart in mineEverybody's talking to me
But they just can't explain
Disappeared from all the pages
And nothing seems the sameWas a time I thought I knew you
When I looked you in the eye
Now the same eyes look right through me
You're too cool to see me cryBittersweet are the memories
That make old lovers pine
But I'll trade all the memories
Just to have your heart in mineOh my darling, oh my darling
How can you forget
All the love we had between us
Now it's like we've never metYou were golden and I was blind
Now it's like we've never met
