Antiskeptic

Living in lonely desperate times
Youe keeping me far enough and way behind
And never do I knowWhat you think and do you feel
Are your fires burning
You keeping your morals nice and tight
While keeping your mind all open wide
What in the future do you suppose?
I may have opened up your mindYou seemed to know just what youe doing
But you signed and changed your tune
And I out loud and I not selling myself out and that the truthKeepin?Him low-key just because Reason too cool to wear the thorn and cross
The direction not His courseWhat you think and do you feel
Are your fires burning
You keeping your morals nice and tight
While keeping your mind all open wide
What in the future do you suppose?
I may have opened up your mindYou seemed to know just what youe doing
But you signed and changed your tune
And I out loud and I not selling myself out and that the truth
