

The Stars We Are

Marc Almond

Do you remember those hazy amber days?
We were but children having the time of our lives
We had no regard or respect and a floor was a bed
And a bed held the mysteries of life They had to end but so soon
And to sit in the dark of my lonely room
Made it all seem so cruelly real Say no goodbyes, no regrets
For the things that we said and how we said
That we only wanted an answer to our dreams
We wanted an answer to our dreams Ignorance is bliss
When adulthood we can't resist
To embrace the years with grace
What a waste, what a waste The fun we had, the fun we'll have Reckless immaturity Woh, for stars we are and stars we'll be
Just you and me
Woh, for stars we are and stars we'll be
Just you and me Woh, for stars we are and stars we'll be
Just you and me
