No Sympathy

Grim Skunk

All the people, with their backwards attitude
Pointing fingers
And that's a bad excuse
For sitting on your ass while you complain
The stupid things that you don't want to change
If you ain't got no time for me
Then I ain't got no sympathy for you
You're painting pictures
Of how the world should be
But in your vision
There ain't no room for me
So why don't you just go and start again
Go ahead and find someone else to blame
And if you ask the reasons why
Face the facts we don't see eye to eye
All the people, whose views will never change
Why don't you just go and start again
Go ahead find someone else to blame
If you ain't got no time for me
I don't need your sympathy
So why don't you just go and start again
Go ahead and find someone else to blame
If you ain't got no time for me
Then I ain't got no sympathy for you...
