Stranger Than Earth

Purity Ring

I had a feeling you broke and the smoke filled you up
I wasn't thinkin' 'bout you
You have a mind that makes sight of the weight you pick up
I wasn't thinkin' 'bout youAgain, again, again, I wasn't thinkin' 'bout you
I wasn't, I wasn't
Again, again, again, I wasn't thinkin' 'bout you
I wasn't, I wasn'tThere is a color that shines through your skin
Like the moon on the wind, when I dare bear you in
The night is full on the half of your evaded mass
And the rings vandalizeWe are stranger than Earth with the seasons misled
Stronger than the moons
When our parts parted she bled and bled and bled
I wasn't thinkin' 'bout youAgain, again, again, I wasn't thinkin' 'bout you
I wasn't, I wasn't
Again, again, again, I wasn't thinkin' 'bout you
I wasn't, I wasn'tThere is no lesson in magic
There were untimely dreams where I knew
Woken in a fog, don't sweat it
And reckon none of it had come from you
There is no lesson in magic
There were untimely dreams where I knew
Lookin' in a fog, don't sweat it
And reckon none of it had come from youPity seek what we might lose
But in a week might our weakness eludeThere was a stagger that shifted my hips
Oh, how swiftly it shook the dew from my lips
There was a danger that seeped from my skull
How it dripped on us all but it wasn't your faultWe are stranger than Earth with the seasons misled
Stronger than the moons
When our parts parted she bled and bled and bled
I wasn't thinkin' 'bout youAgain, again, again, I wasn't thinkin' 'bout you
I wasn't, I wasn't
Again, again, again, I wasn't thinkin' 'bout you
I wasn't, I wasn't
Again, again, again, I wasn't thinkin' 'bout you
I wasn't thinkin' 'bout you
I wasn't thinkin' 'bout you
Again, again, again, I wasn't thinkin' 'bout you
I wasn't thinkin' 'bout you
I wasn'tAnd we break downstairs with our fevers in the air

I forgot to ask how I only left them there
How thick it sits and why your eyes glare
How thick it sits and why your eyes glarePity seek what we might lose
But in a week might our weakness elude
