Why won't you see I am longing to be
In a dream with you and me and all the things that we could be

We only speak by the end of the week
And I am trying to make it clear that
I always want you near

Summer is coming on and I feel it
And I really want to believe that
When the winter is here you will hold me
Like no one else you've ever held before

We only speak by the end of the week
And I am trying to make it clear that
I always want you near

Why won't you see I am longing to be
In a dream with you and me and all the things that
we could be

Summer is coming on and I feel it
And I really want to believe that
When the winter is here you will hold me
Like no one else you've ever held before
