

Days Ahead

Grindstone

As the day fades into night,
And the sun is swallowed by the sky.
All around I can feel it coming,
As the heavens disturbed, it's in the air.
When the rain begins to fall,
And the sky turns black, too black to see!
I look back to fading memories,
Held so strong by images so clear! I'll look forward to my days ahead.
Embrace the changes, leaving old skin shed.
I'll keep on wandering, down my weary way.
I'll find my shelter, from this pain. Lost my way, wandering alone.
Need for change? Answers sought, but still not found!
Call my name, I search within.
Uncover truth that once had held my faith! I'll look forward to my days ahead.
Embrace the changes, leaving old skin shed.
I'll keep on wandering, down my weary way!
I'll find my shelter, from this pain! Nooo! Yea! No! Yea! No!!! I'll look forward to my days ahead.
Embrace the changes, leaving old skin shed.
I'll keep on wandering, down my weary way!
I'll find my shelter, from this pain!

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>