

Another Suicide

Hoods

Going nowhere fast everywhere at once
No one is king and there is no God
So if life is a test then Ive failed you all
Put the steel to my head and watch me fall, fallI scream from inside, lock myself out
I look to the past wheres the innocence lost
Too proud to be heard as my heart turns to stone
When you turned your back is when I lost it all, allScream from inside just out of reach
I look for your help you give me nothing
No words to express in the hostile times
Killed these dreams when I believed your lies, liesGoing nowhere fast everywhere at once
No one is king and there is no God
So if life is a test then Ive failed you all
Put the steel to my head and watch me fall
