

Core

Pushmonkey

I am naked, you are sacred safe uncovered, subtle rupture rush for comfort, such desire shared forever, your touch soothes me to myCore, when you speak my name I crash, when you go insane I
crumble like a broken ring I sorry fixes everythingeyes grow heavy, aches surrender we sleep soundly in your moistureCore when you say my name I crash when you go insane I
crumble like a broken ring I sorry fixes everythingI am wretched, you are sacred just let nature be your texture rusty teardrops, stretch like rubber be my family, I can live a life of my own supplemental, your touch soothes me to myCore when you say my name I crash when you go insane I
crumble like a broken ring
I sorry fixes everything Core when you scream my name I crash and you go insane I
crumble like a broken ring
I sorry fixes everythingSoothes me to my core Core when you speak my name I crash when you go insane I
crumble like a broken ring
I sorry can fix anything I can live a life of my own
Your touch soothes me to my core
