Pale Light

Dusted

A pale light enters my room
A skinny wrist
A clammy hand on white sheets
Side with fear
I can't move
I'm in agonyOnly my eyes lived
And showed the sadness of a loss
A small world surrounded me
There's nothing more
Nothing more leftExhausted by wandering
Through the cruel days
Awakening sadness
As I recallOutside, this changing time provokes me
My big desire, I can't hear this choking love
And I can't hold our memoriesExhausted by wandering
Through the cruel days
Awakening sadness
As I recallThe sun closes her eyes for the night
Strange shadows rise
at my wall
They are trying to catch my light
And dance together
into this dark nightExhausted by wandering
Through the cruel days
Awakening sadness
As I recall
