Whatever Happened To Soy Bomb

Eels

Blue light is flickering through the city streets
One billion TV sets glowin' off concrete
One day closer to death, I know that I don't have too long
What ever happened to Soy bombLunch box collector loves all the pussycats
But when he goes to bed he wonders where he's at Thrift store shirts and old haircuts living in an old sick home
What ever happened to Soy BombThe day is coming when you'll have to think of it
Was it really worth it all that shit?Blue light is flickering through the cloudy sky
One billion lonely hearts beating till they die
One day closer to death, I know that I don't have too long
What ever happened to Soy Bomb
