

You Wanted More

Tonic

Love is tragic, love is bold
You will always do what you are told
Love is hard, love is strong
You will never say that you were wrong I don't know when I got bitter
But love is surely better when it's gone 'Cause you wanted more
More than I could give
More than I could handle
In a life that I can't live You wanted more
More than I could bear
More than I could offer
For a love that isn't there Love is color, love is loud
Love is never saying you're too proud
Love is trusting, love is honest
Love is not a hand to hold you down I don't know when I got bitter
But love is surely better when it's gone 'Cause you wanted more
More than I could give
More than I could handle
In a life that I can't live You wanted more
More than I could bear
More than I could offer
For a love that isn't there I got to pick me up when I am down town
I got to get my feet back on the ground
I got to pick me up when I am down town I don't know when I got bitter
But love is surely better when it's gone 'Cause you wanted more
More than I could give
More than I could handle
In a life that I can't live You wanted more
More than I could bear
More than I could offer
For a love that isn't there You wanted more
More than I could love
More than I could offer
The harder you would shove You wanted more
More than I could give
More than I could handle
In a life that I can't live
