Bedroom Door

Broods

They make it easy
You give in to everything
I know you, I know you
It's what you do, what you do
There's no need to disappear
I've got room for you in here
To unite, to unite
Tell you why, tell you whyI've been longing after you
Longing after you since the start
Oh and all you have to do
All you have to do is stop bySo shut up the bedroom door
And shut out the world some more
I know your head gets sore when you're not near me
And drop your clothes on the floor
You've had a hard day I know
I've had a hard day too I can't forget with youTake it easy, just as long as you are here
You'll be fine, you'll be fine
You know why, you know whyI've been longing after you
Longing after you since the start
Oh and all you have to do
All you have to do is stop bySo shut up the bedroom door
And shut out the world some more
I know your head gets sore when you're not near me
And drop your clothes on the floor
You've had a hard day I know
I've had a hard day too, I can't forget with youForget the work you need to do
Forget about how hard it is too lose
Forget about the things you need to say
I see it in your eyes, I feel the same
Remember all the times I used to hurt
Remember all the things you helped me learn
I'm tryin', I am here to help you too
I'm here to help youSo shut up the bedroom door
And shut out the world some more
I know your head gets sore when you're not near me
And drop your clothes on the floor
You've had a hard day I know
I've had a hard day too, I can't forget with you
