Game

Nick Gill

Verse 1:
You've been feelin' the pain, you've been feelin' the pain of the layman's claim,
Follow all the rules, follow all the fools and you won't be blamed
Go on you don't need to follow them, go on you can breakaway
Go on you don't need anybody now, or so you sayChorus:
I don't know why I'm playing in the wrong game now, game now, looking for the end of the board. And I know 'bout the tears that you cry all alone when your waiting up in your car at night, and I know that you need her now, now, now, to hold her tight.Verse 2:
You know now, you know now there's never been a better time
Hold back your fears, hold back your fears, she's waiting on the line
Go on tell her that you need her now, go on you can make it fun
Go on you don't need a cover just be yourself and not another one.
