Tanbark

dredg

The old returns while the new can bore
Because you're the one who fell
Into your self-created Hell
We wanted outIt took time to realize
It's a chore to recognize
What your world could take it's overgrown
Take it all the way now
Well soon, we'll take this all the way downThe old returns while the new can bore
Because you're the one who fell
Into your self-created Hell
There is no way out
When you build a stubborn shell
That shields from any help
We wanted outYou tried to maximize
But it came as no surprise
Your world is staked to your own dome
Take it all the way out
Well soon, we'll take this all the way downPlease, Don't, Go, StayThe old returns while the new conform
Because you're the one who fell
Into your self-created Hell
There is no way out
When you build a stubborn shell
That shields from any help(background screams--Took it away, bring it back, bring it back)The old returns while the new conform
Because you're the one who fell
Into your self-created HellTake it all away now
There is no way out
There is no way out
When you build a stubborn shell
That shields from any help
We wanted out
We wanted out
