Gunshot

Lykke Li

I am longing for your poison
Like a cancer for its prey
Shot an arrow, in your harbor
Where you waited in the rain
I am siren, I am ivy
I am no one, I'm nobody
I am longing for your honey

I am longing for your loveAnd the shot goes through my head and back Gunshot, I can't take it backLay me down in your ocean

Carry me and my burden

I was dreaming about you honey

I was hoping you'd save meAnd the shot goes through my head and back Gunshot, can't take it back

My heart cracked, really loved you bad Gunshot, I'll never get you backAnd I ache, while you're not here Feel you aching

Wide awake, why you're not here
I can feel you firing straight into my heartGoes through my head and back
Gunshot, can't take it back

My heart cracked, really loved you bad Gunshot, never get you back, never get you back Never get you back, never get you back
